

“Patients and colleagues alike need to know Jesus in our hospital. Many haven’t even heard the name of Jesus. I hope that Saline Process spreads through the region to all the believing healthcare workers. This training has been such a powerful tool in our daily practice. We’ve even seen some of our patients become our sisters and brothers!”

-Lead training coach in Asia, and family medicine physician

The Saline Process™ helps to equip healthcare workers to impact their workplace for Christ by being SALT and LIGHT. It disciples, trains and coaches those workers to skillfully and confidently assess where a patient is in their journey towards faith in Christ. Using permission, sensitivity and respect, participants are introduced to practical tools that help personalize an approach to share Jesus’ love according to each patient’s needs.

Experiential learning methods, such as role play and personal application, are used to explore five main questions:

- Why is faith important in healthcare?
- What are the opportunities and barriers to fulfilling God’s call?
- What is my part?
- What tools will help me cultivate, sow and harvest?
- Where do I go from here?
